EYE BROW LAKE.

Wee Donald's Sheep Ranch.

Kind friends if you will listen,
A story I'll relate,
About wee Donald's sheep ranch,
Way out at Eye Brow Lake.
Away down in the Big Arm Valley,
Where the pastures grow so green,
This ranchman built his castle,
On the banks of a flowing stream.
His sheep fold, warm and cosy,
Stands in a shaded glen,
Surrounded by the forest,
No winds can sweep within.
With hay in great abundance,
And water right at hand,
The smile of peace and plenty,
O'er this ranchman's face expands.

Mr. Ferguson his partner,
A Scotchman of renown,
He occupies this castle,
While Donald lives near town.

His wife a Highland lady,
The mistress of this hall,
With her kind and courteous manner,
She wins the esteem of all.
They keep three trusty servants,
Who work on this estate,
Whose different occupations,
To you I will relate.

They are three hearty ranche boys,
Who look sharp for number one,
While tending to the interests,
Of McLean and Ferguson.

David Wyse is their shepherd,
Who tends well to their flock,
He herds them in the valley,
From seven till six o'clock.

And when the day is over,
And the winter night grows cold,
David brings the bleating lambskin,
All safe within the fold.

George Moore their little joker,
Who is always on parade,
With his pick and scythe,
Also the pick and scythe.

To keep the ranche in order,
It is his one delight,
He toils from early morning,
Till very late at night.

Wm. McDougall is their teamster,
Who draws up hay and straw,
His voice sings late and early,
Get-up, go-long, gee-haw.

And it keeps him very busy,
In drawing up the hay,
For they use three loads of fodder,
On this ranche every day.

Now when their work is over,
And from their labor they retire,
They join in singing scottish songs,
Around the family fire.

Some night's they change their programme,
And for hours they will debate,
Upon the most successful ranching.

To carry on at Eye Brow Lake.

HOW WE FLATTER OURSELVES

"Oh what some power the giftie gie us
To see ourselves as others see us!"

We are not sure that we have quoted this oft-quoted couplet aright, for we are never certain about anything Scotch—as far as spelling and phraseology are concerned.

But we have the substance of it.

No doubt Burns meant well when he wrote these immortal lines, but he was young, and he had not learned the fact that no person ever wishes to see himself as others see him.

We are all self-flatterers, and our friends—those we call friends—know it, and if they have axes to grind, they help us on in our course of self-estimation.

Privately every individual, however humble, entertains the idea that he is a little superior to his neighbor. It is natural, we suppose.

There is a class of people who are continually decrying themselves, who take delight in telling everybody how bad, and unworthy, and unlovely they are generally, and this is the method they take to obtain the flattery for which their souls long.

For it is the custom of society to laud the man who humbles himself, and when any of our friends get into a fit of self-depreciation, and exclaim with sighs that are almost tears, "Ah, me! I wish I were not so ignorant and insignificant! Nobody will miss me when I die!" do not all with one voice hasten to assure the aforesaid insignificant individual that nothing could be further from the truth than his assertion.

And we convey to him the impression that the world could not wag on without him—which was just the assurance he expected, and was fishing for.

We all think that, placed in another man's shoes, we should do better than he does. We are always saying:

"Well, if I had his chance I'd do very differently!"

"If it had been me, I guess it would not have happened!"

"If I were in her place I should do something worth while!"

"Well, that ain't my style!"

We all think we look quite as well us, if not a little better than, somebody else! The old crow, you know, describes her young ones as the whitest crows in the woods!

As we grow old, we do not know it, or rather we will not know it. Our gray hairs are the result of headache. The wrinkles around our eyes and mouth are caused by frequent laughter. We are jolly souls, we are!

When our complexion grows yellow with age, we tell our friends we are bilious; and our family physician who has an eye to fat fees, agrees with us; and we take pills and bitters, and nostrums of every description, and like the Irishman's horse, "get no better very fast."

When we find that our shoes must be wider, we say it is because a bunion troubles us—we do not acknowledge that it is old age which makes our feet tender.

We put far the evil day.

No one likes to be called old. No one likes to be reminded of the fact that others think he is growing infirm.

Yesterday we were talking with a man of almost four-score years. We spoke of an aged man, in the vicinity, who has recently passed away. We spoke of him as old.

"Why, no!" said our venerable friend, "he was not so very old! Certainly not! Why, he was not more than a year older than I am!"

We always flatter ourselves that we are of a little more consequence in the world than our neighbors.

"Why," said a lady to us the other day, who was showing symptoms of illness just as the church of which she is a member was getting up a fair; "why, I can't be sick! What can they do without my help!"

And as we go along, we think of death, perhaps, all of us. Other people die and leave no void behind them. In a month they are forgotten. In a year their wives and husbands remarry, and the dead are in oblivion.

We do not think of ourselves in that way. We do not believe our husbands will be looking for other wives before the sods above our graves have grown green many, many times in the sweet May sunshine.

We think we shall leave a wide void behind us. We believe that friends will find their lives saddened for all time by our removal, but if we could step back into the world ten years—yes, two years after our departure therefrom—we should find few faces sad on our account; we doubt if we found many glad to give us welcome!

But self-flattery is pleasant, and it makes us happy, and it is comparatively innocent, and so cheap that anybody can have it.

And we are not like the dead and gone Scotchman—we don't want to see ourselves as others see us."

Not at present.

Every heart knoweth its own bitterness. It is doubtful if the same is true of every deer.

"Give me a charge of the choir," replied the devil, "and I care not who occupies the pulpit."

It is a great thing to do a great deal, but it is a greater thing still to know enough not to tell it.

MEETING OF REGINA PRESBYTERY

Rev. Mr. Rochester Received Ordained—Rev. Dr. Robertson for Moderator.

The presbytery met on Wednesday, 11th inst. There were present James Douglas, moderator; Rev. Messrs. Fotheringham, H. IMMIGRATION BOOMING.

Forty Thousand Europeans Will Pass Through New York This Month.

NEW YORK, March 23.—On five steamers which arrived yesterday from European ports there were 3,143 immigrants. The French steamship La Bretagne brought 776; the Danish steamship Thingvalla, 334; the Canada, from Liverpool, 52; and the Aurora, from Liverpool, 992. It will take the immigration officers two whole days to pass this army of men, women and children through the large office, and before they are all sent on their various ways, the chances are that more immigrants will arrive to keep them busy. During the next thirty days it is estimated that 30,000 or 40,000 immigrants will arrive.

The Herald Carlton Place Ont., says:—"Mr. John Rathwell, an old Lanark county man, who is now located and prospering in the North West, at Moose Jaw, is visiting friends in this country. Mr. Rathwell speaks very highly of his western home, and thinks it a grand country. The soil is a dark loam and the climate is sublime. Cattle can graze until the month of February. Syndicate land can be bought for from three to four dollars an acre, or homestead grants of 160 acres can be had for $10 and a certain work for a number of years. Moose Jaw is a thriving village on the C.P.R. main line, has three churches and a public school. In the Rathwell district they have built four new schools within the last two years.

We received the following letter this week, which goes to show that Mr. Rathwell is doing good work in the east:—

Arthur, March 11th, 1891.

A public meeting was held in this school house, Section 11, on March 11th, by Mr. John Rathwell, late of Moose Jaw, N. W. T., for the purpose of explaining the advantages of the great North West. A very large crowd of people being present. Wm. J. Morrison in the chair. Mr. Rathwell gave a very fine address, fully explaining all points of interest and giving a very glowing account of the great prairie country, and especially the Moose Jaw district, which was very attentively listened to. At the close of his address, Mr. Rathwell gave any person the privilege of asking him any questions about the country. There was several questions asked about the supply of wood, water etc., all of which Mr. Rathwell answered to the entire satisfaction of those present, giving a full account of everything and explaining the ways of working in the new country, and the fine privileges enjoyed, after which the meeting broke up. A very hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker.

W. J. MORRISON, Wagnam.

CAKON.

The Campbell Bros from Harriston, Ont., arrived here on Tuesday last with a car load of stock and implements. Mr. James Hawkes paid a visit to Mr. T. D. Watson's ranch last week and returned with a fine span of mares and his brother with one making a three horse team each, for to begin seeding with. The weather here is fine now and the snow is going fast and the aspens putting in an appearance which is an indication of spring. School started here on March 1st with Mr. James Wilson formerly of Granton in the County of Middlesex, Ont., as Teacher. —Cox.

Grain Market Active.

TORONTO, March 23.—The week just closed has been one of the most active and exciting in the local grain trade in many years. There has been a strong advance in everything, and transactions have been large and numerous both on have and foreign account. Values are considerably above the average.

To the Editor of the TIMES.

SIR:—In last week's issue of that mealy little campaign sheet, the Standard, there appears a letter signed by "Observer" in which he demands an explanation of a certain circumstance, which he claimed occurred regarding your issue of election week. He goes on to make threats of injury unless a satisfactory explanation be given, and insinuates that it was a "scheme suitable for the Davinites." Now I consider the threat and the implied insinuation as cowardly as they are false. If "Observer" were a man he would have gone to you for an explanation instead of sending an anonymous and scurrilous communication to another paper. His letter neither bears date, or name of place where written, and I am thankful that it does not, as I would be ashamed to see the words Moose Jaw appended to such a production. The writer is evidently ashamed to let his name or place of residence be known, and under cover of a non de plume makes the proverbial "stab in the dark." The people of Moose Jaw and the surrounding district appreciate the work that the TIMES has done in the interests of the town and district. The paper has always come out boldly in defence of the Moose Jaw district against those who would mar its reputation. Although in the late election contest you did not fight on the side that was popular in our town, still every one of Mr. Tweed's friends having the slightest spark of generosity must have admired the stand you took in face of public opinion. Your side won; ours lost; we were beaten fairly and squarely, and Mr. Davis is our representative for another term. Why prolong the strife when the principals have agreed to bury the hatchet? The TIMES is too strongly noted in the affections of the farmers of the district and the enterprising citizens of the town to be allowed to suffer because it expressed a conscientious opinion on the campaign. If "Observer's" mind is so small and his ideas so contracted that he can only give vent to his spleen in this way, he is a disgrace to any community, and the sooner he "folds his tent like the Arabs" and steals away, the better it will be for Moose Jaw. In conclusion, I may say, I should not be surprised if the letter in question never emanated from Moose Jaw, but was written in the sanctum of the verdant editor of the "Regina Campaign Sheet," who seems to have carried with him into his new profession, all the lordly assumptions of superiority which he formerly displayed when he was hill-posting for the Leader, and in the school-room.

ANOTHER OBSERVER,
Who will give his name if required.

CONSIDER THIS FACT.—The fact that rheumatism is caused by an acid in the blood points to the remedy Burdock Blood Bitters, which removes all impurities from the blood not only poisonous rheumatic humor but even obtrusive scrofulous and cancerous taints.

AN ACCIDENT POLICY.—The best Accident Policy is to keep Haygard's Yellow Oil on the hand. Aaa pain cure it is unrivaled, while for croup, sore throat, quinsy, rheumatism, neuralgia, etc., its results are often almost magical. Used externally and internally. Price 25c.

Wiarton, Ont., Echo:—There is a larger emigration this spring to the North West and British Columbia than at any other time for many years. The C. P. Ry., agency here has been kept busy during the past week issuing tickets and arranging for the passage and their effects.

Don't Miss It.

A new and attractive publication containing many useful, interesting and instructive features has just been issued by T. Milburn & Co., of Toronto, under the title of the Burdock Blood Bitters Almanac for 1891. It is now in the hands of the druggists and merchants for free distribution and we would advise our readers to secure a copy before the supply is exhausted.

Hot box on the Mail car caused some hours delay to No. 1 express from the east Wednesday.

Nine car loads of horses and settlers' effects have arrived here during the past five days.

Free Press—Nicholas Flood Davin, M. P., for Western Assiniboina, was initiated into the hidden mysteries of the Royal Templars of Temperance at Regina last Tuesday evening. Henceforward his beverage will be clear, cold sparkling water.

AGENTS WANTED—BY THE "Dominion Illustrated" in every Canadian town and village. Special inducements offered in addition to commission. For particulars address: THE STANSTON LITHO. & PUBLISHING CO., Publishers Montreal.

The people of the town have shown a good deal of enterprise in connection with the electric light. Most of the storekeepers have had the light placed in their stores, and the churches have it placed in them, so that we ought to be good people with so much light to help us in all our affairs.

The town Bible Class was held in the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening. The next session of the class will be held in the Methodist Church on Wednesday next. The subject for study will be "The Temptation of Christ." Dr. McLean has been appointed leader until May 1st.

A public meeting in the interest of the Upper Canada Bible Society will be held in the Methodist church this Friday evening. Rev. Mr. Harrison of Regina, the Societies North West agent, will deliver an interesting address. A large representation from all denominations of the town is expected to be present.

Any person who furnishes reliable items to a newspaper is looked upon as a valuable friend to the Editor. Many persons hesitate about sending a postal card or other information to a newspaper regarding the movements of his friends or themselves lest the Editor should think them anxious to see their names in print. He will think nothing of the kind. He is glad to get such notes.

By order in council, depositors in Post Office Savings Bank can now deposit $1,000 instead of $300, as heretofore, during each year ending 30th June. Depositors can, also, after deposits have been one full month in Savings Bank, transfer their deposits in sums of $100 or multiples thereof to the Finance Department for investment in Dominion 3½ per cent inscribed stock, interest payable 1st March and 1st September.

Easter falls on March 29, an unusually early date. The earliest date on which Easter can fall is March 22, and this is only in case the moon is full March 21, when this date happens to fall on Saturday. This combination of circumstances is extremely rare; it occurred in 1693, 1761 and 1817, and will happen again in 1990, 2076 and 2144, while during the three following centuries it is not once "on the books" at this early date. On the other hand Easter never falls later than April 25. This was the case in 1666, 1734 and 1889, and will only happen once in the next century—namely, in 1893.

The Ladies' Aid Social held in the Methodist Church was successful financially and socially, although the attendance was not as large as it would have been if the roads had been in good condition for travelling. Some excellent music was supplied by the choir. Solos were sung by Miss Cowan and Miss Ruttle. Addresses were given as follows:—Dr. McLean on "Politics for Workingmen," Rev. Mr. Clay, "Patriotism," Mr. Bowernan, "A Trip up the Saugway." The addresses were superior to what are generally given at such gatherings. Mr. J. E. Annable very acceptably filled the chair.

Mr. Jas. Fitzpatrick, brakeman, had a very narrow escape on Tuesday, while switching at Swift Current. He set the brake on the box car next to the engine and was in the act of pulling the pin to free the engine from the car when he missed his footing and fell under the trucks with both legs across the rail, one on each side of the wheel.

Fortunately he had just set the brake tight enough to stop the wheel from rolling, and was dragged along under the truck for some distance before the car could be stopped. He was taken from under the car by engineer Wright and placed in a caboose, and, with Wm. Wright at the throttle, no time was lost in coming to Moose Jaw, where the Company's physician, Dr. Turnbull, was called in and dressed the wounds, assisted by Dr. Brett, of Banff. The flesh was torn completely off the inside of the left leg leaving the bone almost bare, and the left arm is badly bruised. The doctor says that amputation, will not be necessary. As Fitz was one of the leading lights in our base ball club, his inability to take his part as pitcher will be a loss to the club. He is recognized as one of the best ball pitchers in the Territories, and will no doubt be a big loss to our team. Great sympathy is expressed by all who know him and especially by his fellow workmen.
